

Keep Walking

Chris Piuma • chrispiuma@gmail.com • 2004

Walk a few feet, through the nearest door, up a few steps, and don't look at anything, just keep going through the nearest door, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue a little further, a few feet, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue a little further, a little further, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a bit more, carefully, along the wall, don't be lazy, walk over the puddle, a few steps further, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, and soon it will look familiar, walk a little further, through the nearest door, a bit more, a little further, faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking behind the building, carefully, carefully, a bit more, along the wall, don't be lazy, walk onto the next street, through the nearest door, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue a little further, a few feet, faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a little further, onto the next street, faster, through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, behind the building, carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk and don't forget to breathe, keep walking up a few steps, carefully, carefully, and don't look at anything, just keep going through the nearest door, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk and take a step backwards, turn right, and go and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, back a few steps, and soon it will look familiar, walk over the puddle, slowly now, along the wall, don't be lazy, walk faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and don't look at anything, just keep going a little further, a little further, onto the next street, over the puddle, carefully, back a few steps, and soon it will look familiar, walk over the puddle, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a bit more, carefully, along the wall, don't be lazy, walk over the puddle, a few steps further, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, and soon it will look familiar, walk a little further, through the nearest door, a bit more, a little further, faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking behind the building, carefully, carefully, a bit more, through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, and soon it will look familiar, walk faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking carefully, onto the next street, through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, up a few steps, back a few steps, faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a little further, and soon it will look familiar, walk and then stop and listen for a second before you continue carefully, a bit more, through the nearest door, faster, a little further, up the hill, turn left, go carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, around in a circle, a little further, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue carefully, a bit more, a little further, and take a step backwards, turn right, and go carefully, along the wall, don't be lazy, walk up the hill, turn left, go carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk and don't forget to breathe, keep walking back a few steps, and soon it will look familiar, walk along the wall, don't be lazy, walk a little further, through the nearest door, up a few steps, back a few steps, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and don't forget to breathe, keep walking up a few steps, a little further, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue along the wall, don't be lazy, walk a bit more, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, a bit more, through the nearest door, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue a little further, a few feet, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue a little further, a little further, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, and soon it will look familiar, walk faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking carefully, onto the next street, through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, up a few steps, back a few steps, faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a little further, and soon it will look familiar, walk and then stop and listen for a second before you continue carefully, a bit more, through the nearest door, faster, a little further, up the hill, turn left, go carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, around in a circle, a little further, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue carefully, a bit more, a little further, and take a step backwards, turn right, and go carefully, along the wall, don't be lazy, walk up the hill, turn left, go carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk and don't forget to breathe, keep walking back a few steps, and soon it will look familiar, walk along the wall, don't be lazy, walk a little further, through the nearest door, up a few steps, back a few steps, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and don't forget to breathe, keep walking up a few steps, a little further, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue along the wall, don't be lazy, walk a bit more, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, a bit more, through the nearest door, up a few steps, back a few steps, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and don't forget to breathe, keep walking up a few steps, a little further, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue along the wall, don't be lazy, walk a bit more, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, a bit more, through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, behind the building, carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and then stop and listen for a second before you continue carefully, a bit more, over the puddle, a little further, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and don't forget to breathe, keep walking carefully, around in a circle, a bit more, a little further, through the nearest door, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, and don't look at anything, just keep going a little further, a little further, onto the next street, a few feet, through the nearest door, up a few steps, and don't look at anything, just keep going back a few steps, and soon it will look familiar, walk over the puddle, through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, behind the building, carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and then stop and listen for a second before you continue carefully, a bit more, over the puddle, a little further, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and don't forget to breathe, keep walking carefully, around in a circle, a bit more, a little further, through the nearest door, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, and don't look at anything, just keep going a little further, a little further, onto the next street, a few feet, through the nearest door, up a few steps, and don't look at anything, just keep going back a few steps, and soon it will look familiar, walk over the puddle, through the nearest door, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue a little further, a few feet, faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a little further, onto the next street, faster, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue along the wall, don't be lazy, walk a bit more, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, a bit more, through the nearest door, around in a circle, back a few steps, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking down a few steps, carefully, a bit more, a little further, up the hill, turn left, go through the nearest door, a bit more, a little further, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue along the wall, don't be lazy, walk up a few steps, up a few steps, and take a step backwards, turn right, and go through the nearest door, up a few steps, carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk over the puddle, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, a few feet, through the nearest door, up a few steps, up a few steps, behind the building, carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk and don't forget to breathe, keep walking around in a circle, a little further, up a few steps, through the nearest door, and don't worry, soon you will sleep, but for now walk and take a step backwards, turn right, and go a few feet, through the nearest door, up a few steps, and don't look at anything, just keep going carefully, and get a quarter out of your pocket, so you can go a little further, a bit more, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, onto the next street, along the wall, don't be lazy, walk behind the building, behind the building, up a few steps, a little further, through the nearest door, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue a little further, a few feet, faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a little further, onto the next street, faster, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue along the wall, don't be lazy, walk a bit more, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, a bit more, through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, behind the building, carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and then stop and listen for a second before you continue carefully, a bit more, over the puddle, a little further, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and don't forget to breathe, keep walking carefully, around in a circle, a bit more, a little further, through the nearest door, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, and don't look at anything, just keep going a little further, a little further, onto the next street, a few feet, through the nearest door, up a few steps, and don't look at anything, just keep going back a few steps, and soon it will look familiar, walk over the puddle, through the nearest door, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue a little further, a few feet, faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a little further, onto the next street, faster, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue along the wall, don't be lazy, walk a bit more, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, a bit more, through the nearest door, up a few steps, back a few steps, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and don't forget to breathe, keep walking up a few steps, a little further, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue along the wall, don't be lazy, walk a bit more, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, a bit more, through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, faster, carefully, carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk back a few steps, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few feet, back a few steps, up a few steps, up a few steps, up a few steps, carefully, carefully, and don't look at anything, just keep going and then stop and listen for a second before you continue through the nearest door, down a few steps, back a few steps, up a few steps, back a few steps, through the nearest door, a bit more, a few feet, through the nearest door, up a few steps, and don't look at anything, just keep going through the nearest door, up a few steps, back a few steps, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and don't forget to breathe, keep walking up a few steps, a little further, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue along the wall, don't be lazy, walk a bit more, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, a bit more, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a bit more, carefully, along the wall, don't be lazy, walk over the puddle, a few steps further, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, and soon it will look familiar, walk a little further, through the nearest door, a bit more, a little further, faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking behind the building, carefully, carefully, a bit more, through the nearest door, around in a circle, back a few steps, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking down a few steps, carefully, a bit more, a little further, through the nearest door, up a few steps, back a few steps, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and don't forget to breathe, keep walking up a few steps, a little further, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue along the wall, don't be lazy, walk a bit more, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, a bit more, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue through the nearest door, faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a little further, a bit more, through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, behind the building, carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and then stop and listen for a second before you continue carefully, a bit more, over the puddle, a little further, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and don't forget to breathe, keep walking carefully, around in a circle, a bit more, a little further, through the nearest door, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, and don't look at anything, just keep going a little further, a little further, onto the next street, a few feet, through the nearest door, up a few steps, and don't look at anything, just keep going back a few steps, and soon it will look familiar, walk over the puddle, around in a circle, a little further, a few steps further, back a few steps, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, around in a circle, along the wall, don't be lazy, walk back a few steps, up a few steps, behind the building, back a few steps, and soon it will look familiar, walk over the puddle, up the hill, turn left, go through the nearest door, a bit more, a little further, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue along the wall, don't be lazy, walk up a few steps, up a few steps, and take a step backwards, turn right, and go up the hill, turn left, go through the nearest door, a bit more, a little further, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue along the wall, don't be lazy, walk up a few steps, up a few steps, and take a step backwards, turn right, and go through the nearest door, around in a circle, back a few steps, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking down a few steps, carefully, a bit more, a little further, through the nearest door, up a few steps, carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk over the puddle, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, a few feet, through the nearest door, up a few steps, up a few steps, behind the building, carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk and don't forget to breathe, keep walking around in a circle, a little further, up a few steps, through the nearest door, and don't worry, soon you will sleep, but for now walk and take a step backwards, turn right, and go a few feet, through the nearest door, up a few steps, and don't look at anything, just keep going carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk and don't forget to breathe, keep walking carefully, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, and soon it will look familiar, walk a little further, and wonder if you should be here, but keep going and don't forget to breathe, keep walking faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a bit more, a little further, a little further, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a bit more, carefully, along the wall, don't be lazy, walk over the puddle, a few steps further, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, and soon it will look familiar, walk a little further, through the nearest door, a bit more, a little further, faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking behind the building, carefully, carefully, a bit more, through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, and soon it will look familiar, walk faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking carefully, onto the next street, through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, up a few steps, back a few steps, faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a little further, and soon it will look familiar, walk and then stop and listen for a second before you continue carefully, a bit more, through the nearest door, faster, a little further, up the hill, turn left, go carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, around in a circle, a little further, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue carefully, a bit more, a little further, and take a step backwards, turn right, and go carefully, along the wall, don't be lazy, walk up the hill, turn left, go carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk and don't forget to breathe, keep walking back a few steps, and soon it will look familiar, walk along the wall, don't be lazy, walk a little further, through the nearest door, up a few steps, back a few steps, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and don't forget to breathe, keep walking up a few steps, a little further, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue along the wall, don't be lazy, walk a bit more, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, a bit more, through the nearest door, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue a little further, a few feet, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue a little further, a little further, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and then stop and listen for a second before you continue through the nearest door, faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a little further, a bit more, through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, behind the building, carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and then stop and listen for a second before you continue carefully, a bit more, over the puddle, a little further, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and don't forget to breathe, keep walking carefully, around in a circle, a bit more, a little further, through the nearest door, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, and don't look at anything, just keep going a little further, a little further, onto the next street, a few feet, through the nearest door, up a few steps, and don't look at anything, just keep going back a few steps, and soon it will look familiar, walk over the puddle, through the nearest door, up a few steps, back a few steps, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and don't forget to breathe, keep walking up a few steps, a little further, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue along the wall, don't be lazy, walk a bit more, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, a bit more, carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk and don't forget to breathe, keep walking carefully, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, and soon it will look familiar, walk a little further, and wonder if you should be here, but keep going and don't forget to breathe, keep walking faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a bit more, a little further, a little further, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and then stop and listen for a second before you continue through the nearest door, faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a little further, a bit more, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a bit more, carefully, along the wall, don't be lazy, walk over the puddle, a few steps further, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, and soon it will look familiar, walk a little further, through the nearest door, a bit more, a little further, faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking behind the building, carefully, carefully, a bit more, through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, faster, carefully, carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk back a few steps, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few feet, back a few steps, up a few steps, up a few steps, up a few steps, carefully, carefully, and don't look at anything, just keep going and then stop and listen for a second before you continue through the nearest door, down a few steps, back a few steps, up a few steps, back a few steps, through the nearest door, a bit more, a few feet, through the nearest door, up a few steps, and don't look at anything, just keep going around in a circle, a little further, a few steps further, back a few steps, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, around in a circle, along the wall, don't be lazy, walk back a few steps, up a few steps, behind the building, back a few steps, and soon it will look familiar, walk over the puddle, around in a circle, a little further, a few steps further, back a few steps, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, around in a circle, along the wall, don't be lazy, walk back a few steps, up a few steps, behind the building, back a few steps, and soon it will look familiar, walk over the puddle, up the hill, turn left, go through the nearest door, a bit more, a little further, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue along the wall, don't be lazy, walk up a few steps, up a few steps, and take a step backwards, turn right, and go through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, faster, carefully, carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk back a few steps, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few feet, back a few steps, up a few steps, up a few steps, up a few steps, carefully, carefully, and don't look at anything, just keep going and then stop and listen for a second before you continue through the nearest door, down a few steps, back a few steps, up a few steps, back a few steps, through the nearest door, a bit more, a few feet, through the nearest door, up a few steps, and don't look at anything, just keep going through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, behind the building, carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and then stop and listen for a second before you continue carefully, a bit more, over the puddle, a little further, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and don't forget to breathe, keep walking carefully, around in a circle, a bit more, a little further, through the nearest door, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, and don't look at anything, just keep going a little further, a little further, onto the next street, a few feet, through the nearest door, up a few steps, and don't look at anything, just keep going back a few steps, and soon it will look familiar, walk over the puddle, along the wall, don't be lazy, walk onto the next street, through the nearest door, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue a little further, a few feet, faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a little further, onto the next street, faster, up the hill, turn left, go through the nearest door, a bit more, a little further, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue along the wall, don't be lazy, walk up a few steps, up a few steps, and take a step backwards, turn right, and go up the hill, turn left, go through the nearest door, a bit more, a little further, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue along the wall, don't be lazy, walk up a few steps, up a few steps, and take a step backwards, turn right, and go through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, behind the building, carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk and don't forget to breathe, keep walking up a few steps, carefully, carefully, and don't look at anything, just keep going through the nearest door, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk and take a step backwards, turn right, and go and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, back a few steps, and soon it will look familiar, walk over the puddle, slowly now, along the wall, don't be lazy, walk faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and don't look at anything, just keep going a little further, a little further, onto the next street, over the puddle, carefully, back a few steps, and soon it will look familiar, walk over the puddle, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a bit more, carefully, along the wall, don't be lazy, walk over the puddle, a few steps further, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, and soon it will look familiar, walk a little further, through the nearest door, a bit more, a little further, faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking behind the building, carefully, carefully, a bit more, through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, behind the building, carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and then stop and listen for a second before you continue carefully, a bit more, over the puddle, a little further, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and don't forget to breathe, keep walking carefully, around in a circle, a bit more, a little further, through the nearest door, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, and don't look at anything, just keep going a little further, a little further, onto the next street, a few feet, through the nearest door, up a few steps, and don't look at anything, just keep going back a few steps, and soon it will look familiar, walk over the puddle, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a bit more, carefully, along the wall, don't be lazy, walk over the puddle, a few steps further, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, and soon it will look familiar, walk a little further, through the nearest door, a bit more, a little further, faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking behind the building, carefully, carefully, a bit more, through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, faster, carefully, carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk back a few steps, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few feet, back a few steps, up a few steps, up a few steps, up a few steps, carefully, carefully, and don't look at anything, just keep going and then stop and listen for a second before you continue through the nearest door, down a few steps, back a few steps, up a few steps, back a few steps, through the nearest door, a bit more, a few feet, through the nearest door, up a few steps, and don't look at anything, just keep going through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking through the nearest door, and don't look at anything, just keep going a little further, through the nearest door, faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a little further, onto the next street, around in a circle, through the nearest door, up the hill, turn left, go and don't look at anything, just keep going a few feet, through the nearest door, a bit more, behind the building, faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking along the wall, don't be lazy, walk a bit more, and soon it will look familiar, walk a bit more, back a few steps, over the puddle, a few steps further, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, over the puddle, carefully, through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, behind the building, carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and then stop and listen for a second before you continue carefully, a bit more, over the puddle, a little further, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and don't forget to breathe, keep walking carefully, around in a circle, a bit more, a little further, through the nearest door, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, and don't look at anything, just keep going a little further, a little further, onto the next street, a few feet, through the nearest door, up a few steps, and don't look at anything, just keep going back a few steps, and soon it will look familiar, walk over the puddle, through the nearest door, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue a little further, a few feet, faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a little further, onto the next street, faster, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue along the wall, don't be lazy, walk a bit more, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, a bit more, around in a circle, through the nearest door, up the hill, turn left, go and don't look at anything, just keep going through the nearest door, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue a little further, a few feet, faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a little further, onto the next street, faster, through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, faster, carefully, carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk back a few steps, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few feet, back a few steps, up a few steps, up a few steps, up a few steps, carefully, carefully, and don't look at anything, just keep going and then stop and listen for a second before you continue through the nearest door, down a few steps, back a few steps, up a few steps, back a few steps, through the nearest door, a bit more, a few feet, through the nearest door, up a few steps, and don't look at anything, just keep going carefully, and get a quarter out of your pocket, so you can go a little further, a bit more, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, onto the next street, along the wall, don't be lazy, walk behind the building, behind the building, up a few steps, a little further, faster, up a few steps, carefully, a few feet, up a few steps, and take a step backwards, turn right, and go and soon it will look familiar, walk carefully, a few feet, through the nearest door, up a few steps, carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk over the puddle, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, a few feet, through the nearest door, up a few steps, up a few steps, behind the building, carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk and don't forget to breathe, keep walking around in a circle, a little further, up a few steps, through the nearest door, and don't worry, soon you will sleep, but for now walk and take a step backwards, turn right, and go a few feet, through the nearest door, up a few steps, and don't look at anything, just keep going and then stop and listen for a second before you continue through the nearest door, faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a little further, a bit more, through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, behind the building, carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and then stop and listen for a second before you continue carefully, a bit more, over the puddle, a little further, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and don't forget to breathe, keep walking carefully, around in a circle, a bit more, a little further, through the nearest door, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, and don't look at anything, just keep going a little further, a little further, onto the next street, a few feet, through the nearest door, up a few steps, and don't look at anything, just keep going back a few steps, and soon it will look familiar, walk over the puddle, through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, behind the building, carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk and don't forget to breathe, keep walking up a few steps, carefully, carefully, and don't look at anything, just keep going through the nearest door, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk and take a step backwards, turn right, and go and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, back a few steps, and soon it will look familiar, walk over the puddle, slowly now, along the wall, don't be lazy, walk faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and don't look at anything, just keep going a little further, a little further, onto the next street, over the puddle, carefully, back a few steps, and soon it will look familiar, walk over the puddle, through the nearest door, up a few steps, back a few steps, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and don't forget to breathe, keep walking up a few steps, a little further, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue along the wall, don't be lazy, walk a bit more, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, a bit more, through the nearest door, up a few steps, back a few steps, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and don't forget to breathe, keep walking up a few steps, a little further, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue along the wall, don't be lazy, walk a bit more, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, a bit more, carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk and don't forget to breathe, keep walking carefully, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, and soon it will look familiar, walk a little further, and wonder if you should be here, but keep going and don't forget to breathe, keep walking faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a bit more, a little further, a little further, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking carefully, and get a quarter out of your pocket, so you can go a little further, a bit more, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, onto the next street, along the wall, don't be lazy, walk behind the building, behind the building, up a few steps, a little further, up the hill, turn left, go through the nearest door, a bit more, a little further, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue along the wall, don't be lazy, walk up a few steps, up a few steps, and take a step backwards, turn right, and go around in a circle, through the nearest door, up the hill, turn left, go and don't look at anything, just keep going through the nearest door, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue a little further, a few feet, faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a little further, onto the next street, faster, through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, faster, carefully, carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk back a few steps, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few feet, back a few steps, up a few steps, up a few steps, up a few steps, carefully, carefully, and don't look at anything, just keep going and then stop and listen for a second before you continue through the nearest door, down a few steps, back a few steps, up a few steps, back a few steps, through the nearest door, a bit more, a few feet, through the nearest door, up a few steps, and don't look at anything, just keep going carefully, and get a quarter out of your pocket, so you can go a little further, a bit more, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, onto the next street, along the wall, don't be lazy, walk behind the building, behind the building, up a few steps, a little further, through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, behind the building, carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and then stop and listen for a second before you continue carefully, a bit more, over the puddle, a little further, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and don't forget to breathe, keep walking carefully, around in a circle, a bit more, a little further, through the nearest door, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, and don't look at anything, just keep going a little further, a little further, onto the next street, a few feet, through the nearest door, up a few steps, and don't look at anything, just keep going back a few steps, and soon it will look familiar, walk over the puddle, through the nearest door, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue a little further, a few feet, faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a little further, onto the next street, faster, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue along the wall, don't be lazy, walk a bit more, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, a bit more, through the nearest door, around in a circle, back a few steps, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking down a few steps, carefully, a bit more, a little further, up the hill, turn left, go through the nearest door, a bit more, a little further, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue along the wall, don't be lazy, walk up a few steps, up a few steps, and take a step backwards, turn right, and go through the nearest door, up a few steps, carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk over the puddle, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, a few feet, through the nearest door, up a few steps, up a few steps, behind the building, carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk and don't forget to breathe, keep walking around in a circle, a little further, up a few steps, through the nearest door, and don't worry, soon you will sleep, but for now walk and take a step backwards, turn right, and go a few feet, through the nearest door, up a few steps, and don't look at anything, just keep going carefully, and get a quarter out of your pocket, so you can go a little further, a bit more, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, onto the next street, along the wall, don't be lazy, walk behind the building, behind the building, up a few steps, a little further, through the nearest door, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue a little further, a few feet, faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a little further, onto the next street, faster, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue along the wall, don't be lazy, walk a bit more, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, a bit more, through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, behind the building, carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and then stop and listen for a second before you continue carefully, a bit more, over the puddle, a little further, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and don't forget to breathe, keep walking carefully, around in a circle, a bit more, a little further, through the nearest door, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, and don't look at anything, just keep going a little further, a little further, onto the next street, a few feet, through the nearest door, up a few steps, and don't look at anything, just keep going back a few steps, and soon it will look familiar, walk over the puddle, through the nearest door, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue a little further, a few feet, faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a little further, onto the next street, faster, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue along the wall, don't be lazy, walk a bit more, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, a bit more, through the nearest door, up a few steps, back a few steps, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and don't forget to breathe, keep walking up a few steps, a little further, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue along the wall, don't be lazy, walk a bit more, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, a bit more, through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, faster, carefully, carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk back a few steps, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few feet, back a few steps, up a few steps, up a few steps, up a few steps, carefully, carefully, and don't look at anything, just keep going and then stop and listen for a second before you continue through the nearest door, down a few steps, back a few steps, up a few steps, back a few steps, through the nearest door, a bit more, a few feet, through the nearest door, up a few steps, and don't look at anything, just keep going through the nearest door, up a few steps, back a few steps, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and don't forget to breathe, keep walking up a few steps, a little further, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue along the wall, don't be lazy, walk a bit more, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, a bit more, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a bit more, carefully, along the wall, don't be lazy, walk over the puddle, a few steps further, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, and soon it will look familiar, walk a little further, through the nearest door, a bit more, a little further, faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking behind the building, carefully, carefully, a bit more, through the nearest door, around in a circle, back a few steps, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking down a few steps, carefully, a bit more, a little further, through the nearest door, up a few steps, back a few steps, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and don't forget to breathe, keep walking up a few steps, a little further, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue along the wall, don't be lazy, walk a bit more, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, a bit more, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue through the nearest door, faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a little further, a bit more, through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, behind the building, carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and then stop and listen for a second before you continue carefully, a bit more, over the puddle, a little further, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and don't forget to breathe, keep walking carefully, around in a circle, a bit more, a little further, through the nearest door, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, and don't look at anything, just keep going a little further, a little further, onto the next street, a few feet, through the nearest door, up a few steps, and don't look at anything, just keep going back a few steps, and soon it will look familiar, walk over the puddle, around in a circle, a little further, a few steps further, back a few steps, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, around in a circle, along the wall, don't be lazy, walk back a few steps, up a few steps, behind the building, back a few steps, and soon it will look familiar, walk over the puddle, up the hill, turn left, go through the nearest door, a bit more, a little further, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue along the wall, don't be lazy, walk up a few steps, up a few steps, and take a step backwards, turn right, and go up the hill, turn left, go through the nearest door, a bit more, a little further, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue along the wall, don't be lazy, walk up a few steps, up a few steps, and take a step backwards, turn right, and go through the nearest door, around in a circle, back a few steps, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking down a few steps, carefully, a bit more, a little further, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a bit more, carefully, along the wall, don't be lazy, walk over the puddle, a few steps further, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, and soon it will look familiar, walk a little further, through the nearest door, a bit more, a little further, faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking behind the building, carefully, carefully, a bit more, through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, faster, carefully, carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk back a few steps, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few feet, back a few steps, up a few steps, up a few steps, up a few steps, carefully, carefully, and don't look at anything, just keep going and then stop and listen for a second before you continue through the nearest door, down a few steps, back a few steps, up a few steps, back a few steps, through the nearest door, a bit more, a few feet, through the nearest door, up a few steps, and don't look at anything, just keep going around in a circle, a little further, a few steps further, back a few steps, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, around in a circle, along the wall, don't be lazy, walk back a few steps, up a few steps, behind the building, back a few steps, and soon it will look familiar, walk over the puddle, through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, behind the building, carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and then stop and listen for a second before you continue carefully, a bit more, over the puddle, a little further, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and don't forget to breathe, keep walking carefully, around in a circle, a bit more, a little further, through the nearest door, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, and don't look at anything, just keep going a little further, a little further, onto the next street, a few feet, through the nearest door, up a few steps, and don't look at anything, just keep going back a few steps, and soon it will look familiar, walk over the puddle, through the nearest door, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue a little further, a few feet, faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a little further, onto the next street, faster, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue along the wall, don't be lazy, walk a bit more, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, a bit more, through the nearest door, up a few steps, back a few steps, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and don't forget to breathe, keep walking up a few steps, a little further, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue along the wall, don't be lazy, walk a bit more, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, a bit more, through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, faster, carefully, carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk back a few steps, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few feet, back a few steps, up a few steps, up a few steps, up a few steps, carefully, carefully, and don't look at anything, just keep going and then stop and listen for a second before you continue through the nearest door, down a few steps, back a few steps, up a few steps, back a few steps, through the nearest door, a bit more, a few feet, through the nearest door, up a few steps, and don't look at anything, just keep going and then stop and listen for a second before you continue through the nearest door, faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a little further, a bit more, through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, behind the building, carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and then stop and listen for a second before you continue carefully, a bit more, over the puddle, a little further, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and don't forget to breathe, keep walking carefully, around in a circle, a bit more, a little further, through the nearest door, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, and don't look at anything, just keep going a little further, a little further, onto the next street, a few feet, through the nearest door, up a few steps, and don't look at anything, just keep going back a few steps, and soon it will look familiar, walk over the puddle, up the hill, turn left, go through the nearest door, a bit more, a little further, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue along the wall, don't be lazy, walk up a few steps, up a few steps, and take a step backwards, turn right, and go carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk and don't forget to breathe, keep walking carefully, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, and soon it will look familiar, walk a little further, and wonder if you should be here, but keep going and don't forget to breathe, keep walking faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a bit more, a little further, a little further, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a bit more, carefully, along the wall, don't be lazy, walk over the puddle, a few steps further, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, and soon it will look familiar, walk a little further, through the nearest door, a bit more, a little further, faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking behind the building, carefully, carefully, a bit more, through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, faster, carefully, carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk back a few steps, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few feet, back a few steps, up a few steps, up a few steps, up a few steps, carefully, carefully, and don't look at anything, just keep going and then stop and listen for a second before you continue through the nearest door, down a few steps, back a few steps, up a few steps, back a few steps, through the nearest door, a bit more, a few feet, through the nearest door, up a few steps, and don't look at anything, just keep going around in a circle, a little further, a few steps further, back a few steps, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, around in a circle, along the wall, don't be lazy, walk back a few steps, up a few steps, behind the building, back a few steps, and soon it will look familiar, walk over the puddle, along the wall, don't be lazy, walk onto the next street, through the nearest door, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue a little further, a few feet, faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a little further, onto the next street, faster, around in a circle, through the nearest door, up the hill, turn left, go and don't look at anything, just keep going through the nearest door, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue a little further, a few feet, faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a little further, onto the next street, faster, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue through the nearest door, faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a little further, a bit more, through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, behind the building, carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and then stop and listen for a second before you continue carefully, a bit more, over the puddle, a little further, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and don't forget to breathe, keep walking carefully, around in a circle, a bit more, a little further, through the nearest door, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, and don't look at anything, just keep going a little further, a little further, onto the next street, a few feet, through the nearest door, up a few steps, and don't look at anything, just keep going back a few steps, and soon it will look familiar, walk over the puddle, through the nearest door, up a few steps, back a few steps, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and don't forget to breathe, keep walking up a few steps, a little further, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue along the wall, don't be lazy, walk a bit more, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, a bit more, through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, faster, carefully, carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk back a few steps, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few feet, back a few steps, up a few steps, up a few steps, up a few steps, carefully, carefully, and don't look at anything, just keep going and then stop and listen for a second before you continue through the nearest door, down a few steps, back a few steps, up a few steps, back a few steps, through the nearest door, a bit more, a few feet, through the nearest door, up a few steps, and don't look at anything, just keep going through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, and soon it will look familiar, walk faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking carefully, onto the next street, through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, up a few steps, back a few steps, faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a little further, and soon it will look familiar, walk and then stop and listen for a second before you continue carefully, a bit more, through the nearest door, faster, a little further, up the hill, turn left, go carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, around in a circle, a little further, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue carefully, a bit more, a little further, and take a step backwards, turn right, and go carefully, along the wall, don't be lazy, walk up the hill, turn left, go carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk and don't forget to breathe, keep walking back a few steps, and soon it will look familiar, walk along the wall, don't be lazy, walk a little further, up the hill, turn left, go through the nearest door, a bit more, a little further, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue along the wall, don't be lazy, walk up a few steps, up a few steps, and take a step backwards, turn right, and go through the nearest door, around in a circle, back a few steps, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking down a few steps, carefully, a bit more, a little further, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a bit more, carefully, along the wall, don't be lazy, walk over the puddle, a few steps further, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, and soon it will look familiar, walk a little further, through the nearest door, a bit more, a little further, faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking behind the building, carefully, carefully, a bit more, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue through the nearest door, faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a little further, a bit more, through the nearest door, up a few steps, back a few steps, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and don't forget to breathe, keep walking up a few steps, a little further, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue along the wall, don't be lazy, walk a bit more, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, a bit more, along the wall, don't be lazy, walk onto the next street, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, a few steps further, back a few steps, up a few steps, up a few steps, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking along the wall, don't be lazy, walk a bit more, and soon it will look familiar, walk up a few steps, a little further, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue and don't forget to breathe, keep walking over the puddle, carefully, up the hill, turn left, go through the nearest door, a bit more, a little further, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue along the wall, don't be lazy, walk up a few steps, up a few steps, and take a step backwards, turn right, and go through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, faster, carefully, carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk back a few steps, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few feet, back a few steps, up a few steps, up a few steps, up a few steps, carefully, carefully, and don't look at anything, just keep going and then stop and listen for a second before you continue through the nearest door, down a few steps, back a few steps, up a few steps, back a few steps, through the nearest door, a bit more, a few feet, through the nearest door, up a few steps, and don't look at anything, just keep going around in a circle, a little further, a few steps further, back a few steps, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, around in a circle, along the wall, don't be lazy, walk back a few steps, up a few steps, behind the building, back a few steps, and soon it will look familiar, walk over the puddle, through the nearest door, a bit more, carefully, along the wall, don't be lazy, walk and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, back a few steps, and soon it will look familiar, walk through the nearest door, up the hill, turn left, go back a few steps, a bit more, up the hill, turn left, go up a few steps, a little further, through the nearest door, up a few steps, back a few steps, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and don't forget to breathe, keep walking up a few steps, a little further, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue along the wall, don't be lazy, walk a bit more, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, a bit more, through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, and soon it will look familiar, walk faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking carefully, onto the next street, through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, up a few steps, back a few steps, faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a little further, and soon it will look familiar, walk and then stop and listen for a second before you continue carefully, a bit more, through the nearest door, faster, a little further, up the hill, turn left, go carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, around in a circle, a little further, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue carefully, a bit more, a little further, and take a step backwards, turn right, and go carefully, along the wall, don't be lazy, walk up the hill, turn left, go carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk and don't forget to breathe, keep walking back a few steps, and soon it will look familiar, walk along the wall, don't be lazy, walk a little further, up the hill, turn left, go through the nearest door, a bit more, a little further, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue along the wall, don't be lazy, walk up a few steps, up a few steps, and take a step backwards, turn right, and go through the nearest door, around in a circle, back a few steps, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking down a few steps, carefully, a bit more, a little further, through the nearest door, up a few steps, back a few steps, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and don't forget to breathe, keep walking up a few steps, a little further, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue along the wall, don't be lazy, walk a bit more, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, a bit more, through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking through the nearest door, and don't look at anything, just keep going a little further, through the nearest door, faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a little further, onto the next street, around in a circle, through the nearest door, up the hill, turn left, go and don't look at anything, just keep going a few feet, through the nearest door, a bit more, behind the building, faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking along the wall, don't be lazy, walk a bit more, and soon it will look familiar, walk a bit more, back a few steps, over the puddle, a few steps further, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, over the puddle, carefully, up the hill, turn left, go through the nearest door, a bit more, a little further, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue along the wall, don't be lazy, walk up a few steps, up a few steps, and take a step backwards, turn right, and go through the nearest door, up a few steps, carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk over the puddle, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, a few feet, through the nearest door, up a few steps, up a few steps, behind the building, carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk and don't forget to breathe, keep walking around in a circle, a little further, up a few steps, through the nearest door, and don't worry, soon you will sleep, but for now walk and take a step backwards, turn right, and go a few feet, through the nearest door, up a few steps, and don't look at anything, just keep going along the wall, don't be lazy, walk onto the next street, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, a few steps further, back a few steps, up a few steps, up a few steps, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking along the wall, don't be lazy, walk a bit more, and soon it will look familiar, walk up a few steps, a little further, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue and don't forget to breathe, keep walking over the puddle, carefully, up the hill, turn left, go through the nearest door, a bit more, a little further, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue along the wall, don't be lazy, walk up a few steps, up a few steps, and take a step backwards, turn right, and go through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, faster, carefully, carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk back a few steps, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few feet, back a few steps, up a few steps, up a few steps, up a few steps, carefully, carefully, and don't look at anything, just keep going and then stop and listen for a second before you continue through the nearest door, down a few steps, back a few steps, up a few steps, back a few steps, through the nearest door, a bit more, a few feet, through the nearest door, up a few steps, and don't look at anything, just keep going through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, behind the building, carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and then stop and listen for a second before you continue carefully, a bit more, over the puddle, a little further, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and don't forget to breathe, keep walking carefully, around in a circle, a bit more, a little further, through the nearest door, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, and don't look at anything, just keep going a little further, a little further, onto the next street, a few feet, through the nearest door, up a few steps, and don't look at anything, just keep going back a few steps, and soon it will look familiar, walk over the puddle, around in a circle, through the nearest door, up the hill, turn left, go and don't look at anything, just keep going through the nearest door, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue a little further, a few feet, faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a little further, onto the next street, faster, through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, faster, carefully, carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk back a few steps, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few feet, back a few steps, up a few steps, up a few steps, up a few steps, carefully, carefully, and don't look at anything, just keep going and then stop and listen for a second before you continue through the nearest door, down a few steps, back a few steps, up a few steps, back a few steps, through the nearest door, a bit more, a few feet, through the nearest door, up a few steps, and don't look at anything, just keep going through the nearest door, up a few steps, carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk over the puddle, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, a few feet, through the nearest door, up a few steps, up a few steps, behind the building, carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk and don't forget to breathe, keep walking around in a circle, a little further, up a few steps, through the nearest door, and don't worry, soon you will sleep, but for now walk and take a step backwards, turn right, and go a few feet, through the nearest door, up a few steps, and don't look at anything, just keep going through the nearest door, up a few steps, back a few steps, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and don't forget to breathe, keep walking up a few steps, a little further, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue along the wall, don't be lazy, walk a bit more, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, a bit more, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a bit more, carefully, along the wall, don't be lazy, walk over the puddle, a few steps further, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, and soon it will look familiar, walk a little further, through the nearest door, a bit more, a little further, faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking behind the building, carefully, carefully, a bit more, along the wall, don't be lazy, walk onto the next street, through the nearest door, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue a little further, a few feet, faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a little further, onto the next street, faster, around in a circle, through the nearest door, up the hill, turn left, go and don't look at anything, just keep going through the nearest door, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue a little further, a few feet, faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a little further, onto the next street, faster, through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, behind the building, carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and then stop and listen for a second before you continue carefully, a bit more, over the puddle, a little further, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and don't forget to breathe, keep walking carefully, around in a circle, a bit more, a little further, through the nearest door, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, and don't look at anything, just keep going a little further, a little further, onto the next street, a few feet, through the nearest door, up a few steps, and don't look at anything, just keep going back a few steps, and soon it will look familiar, walk over the puddle, through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, behind the building, carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and then stop and listen for a second before you continue carefully, a bit more, over the puddle, a little further, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and don't forget to breathe, keep walking carefully, around in a circle, a bit more, a little further, through the nearest door, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, and don't look at anything, just keep going a little further, a little further, onto the next street, a few feet, through the nearest door, up a few steps, and don't look at anything, just keep going back a few steps, and soon it will look familiar, walk over the puddle, along the wall, don't be lazy, walk onto the next street, through the nearest door, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue a little further, a few feet, faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a little further, onto the next street, faster, through the nearest door, up a few steps, back a few steps, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and don't forget to breathe, keep walking up a few steps, a little further, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue along the wall, don't be lazy, walk a bit more, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, a bit more, through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, and soon it will look familiar, walk faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking carefully, onto the next street, through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, up a few steps, back a few steps, faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a little further, and soon it will look familiar, walk and then stop and listen for a second before you continue carefully, a bit more, through the nearest door, faster, a little further, up the hill, turn left, go carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, around in a circle, a little further, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue carefully, a bit more, a little further, and take a step backwards, turn right, and go carefully, along the wall, don't be lazy, walk up the hill, turn left, go carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk and don't forget to breathe, keep walking back a few steps, and soon it will look familiar, walk along the wall, don't be lazy, walk a little further, through the nearest door, up a few steps, carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk over the puddle, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, a few feet, through the nearest door, up a few steps, up a few steps, behind the building, carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk and don't forget to breathe, keep walking around in a circle, a little further, up a few steps, through the nearest door, and don't worry, soon you will sleep, but for now walk and take a step backwards, turn right, and go a few feet, through the nearest door, up a few steps, and don't look at anything, just keep going through the nearest door, around in a circle, back a few steps, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking down a few steps, carefully, a bit more, a little further, through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, behind the building, carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and then stop and listen for a second before you continue carefully, a bit more, over the puddle, a little further, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and don't forget to breathe, keep walking carefully, around in a circle, a bit more, a little further, through the nearest door, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, and don't look at anything, just keep going a little further, a little further, onto the next street, a few feet, through the nearest door, up a few steps, and don't look at anything, just keep going back a few steps, and soon it will look familiar, walk over the puddle, through the nearest door, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue a little further, a few feet, faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a little further, onto the next street, faster, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue along the wall, don't be lazy, walk a bit more, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, a bit more, through the nearest door, up a few steps, back a few steps, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and don't forget to breathe, keep walking up a few steps, a little further, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue along the wall, don't be lazy, walk a bit more, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, a bit more, through the nearest door, around in a circle, back a few steps, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking down a few steps, carefully, a bit more, a little further, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a bit more, carefully, along the wall, don't be lazy, walk over the puddle, a few steps further, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, and soon it will look familiar, walk a little further, through the nearest door, a bit more, a little further, faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking behind the building, carefully, carefully, a bit more, through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, and soon it will look familiar, walk faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking carefully, onto the next street, through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, up a few steps, back a few steps, faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a little further, and soon it will look familiar, walk and then stop and listen for a second before you continue carefully, a bit more, through the nearest door, faster, a little further, up the hill, turn left, go carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, around in a circle, a little further, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue carefully, a bit more, a little further, and take a step backwards, turn right, and go carefully, along the wall, don't be lazy, walk up the hill, turn left, go carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk and don't forget to breathe, keep walking back a few steps, and soon it will look familiar, walk along the wall, don't be lazy, walk a little further, through the nearest door, up a few steps, back a few steps, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and don't forget to breathe, keep walking up a few steps, a little further, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue along the wall, don't be lazy, walk a bit more, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, a bit more, through the nearest door, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue a little further, a few feet, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue a little further, a little further, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, and soon it will look familiar, walk faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking carefully, onto the next street, through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, up a few steps, back a few steps, faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a little further, and soon it will look familiar, walk and then stop and listen for a second before you continue carefully, a bit more, through the nearest door, faster, a little further, up the hill, turn left, go carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, around in a circle, a little further, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue carefully, a bit more, a little further, and take a step backwards, turn right, and go carefully, along the wall, don't be lazy, walk up the hill, turn left, go carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk and don't forget to breathe, keep walking back a few steps, and soon it will look familiar, walk along the wall, don't be lazy, walk a little further, through the nearest door, up a few steps, back a few steps, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and don't forget to breathe, keep walking up a few steps, a little further, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue along the wall, don't be lazy, walk a bit more, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, a bit more, through the nearest door, up a few steps, back a few steps, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and don't forget to breathe, keep walking up a few steps, a little further, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue along the wall, don't be lazy, walk a bit more, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, a bit more, through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, behind the building, carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and then stop and listen for a second before you continue carefully, a bit more, over the puddle, a little further, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and don't forget to breathe, keep walking carefully, around in a circle, a bit more, a little further, through the nearest door, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, and don't look at anything, just keep going a little further, a little further, onto the next street, a few feet, through the nearest door, up a few steps, and don't look at anything, just keep going back a few steps, and soon it will look familiar, walk over the puddle, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a bit more, carefully, along the wall, don't be lazy, walk over the puddle, a few steps further, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, and soon it will look familiar, walk a little further, through the nearest door, a bit more, a little further, faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking behind the building, carefully, carefully, a bit more, through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, faster, carefully, carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk back a few steps, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few feet, back a few steps, up a few steps, up a few steps, up a few steps, carefully, carefully, and don't look at anything, just keep going and then stop and listen for a second before you continue through the nearest door, down a few steps, back a few steps, up a few steps, back a few steps, through the nearest door, a bit more, a few feet, through the nearest door, up a few steps, and don't look at anything, just keep going around in a circle, a little further, a few steps further, back a few steps, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, around in a circle, along the wall, don't be lazy, walk back a few steps, up a few steps, behind the building, back a few steps, and soon it will look familiar, walk over the puddle, through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, behind the building, carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and then stop and listen for a second before you continue carefully, a bit more, over the puddle, a little further, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and don't forget to breathe, keep walking carefully, around in a circle, a bit more, a little further, through the nearest door, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, and don't look at anything, just keep going a little further, a little further, onto the next street, a few feet, through the nearest door, up a few steps, and don't look at anything, just keep going back a few steps, and soon it will look familiar, walk over the puddle, through the nearest door, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue a little further, a few feet, faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a little further, onto the next street, faster, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue along the wall, don't be lazy, walk a bit more, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, a bit more, through the nearest door, up a few steps, back a few steps, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and don't forget to breathe, keep walking up a few steps, a little further, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue along the wall, don't be lazy, walk a bit more, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, a bit more, through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, faster, carefully, carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk back a few steps, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few feet, back a few steps, up a few steps, up a few steps, up a few steps, carefully, carefully, and don't look at anything, just keep going and then stop and listen for a second before you continue through the nearest door, down a few steps, back a few steps, up a few steps, back a few steps, through the nearest door, a bit more, a few feet, through the nearest door, up a few steps, and don't look at anything, just keep going and then stop and listen for a second before you continue through the nearest door, faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a little further, a bit more, through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, behind the building, carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and then stop and listen for a second before you continue carefully, a bit more, over the puddle, a little further, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and don't forget to breathe, keep walking carefully, around in a circle, a bit more, a little further, through the nearest door, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, and don't look at anything, just keep going a little further, a little further, onto the next street, a few feet, through the nearest door, up a few steps, and don't look at anything, just keep going back a few steps, and soon it will look familiar, walk over the puddle, up the hill, turn left, go through the nearest door, a bit more, a little further, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue along the wall, don't be lazy, walk up a few steps, up a few steps, and take a step backwards, turn right, and go carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk and don't forget to breathe, keep walking carefully, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, and soon it will look familiar, walk a little further, and wonder if you should be here, but keep going and don't forget to breathe, keep walking faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a bit more, a little further, a little further, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a bit more, carefully, along the wall, don't be lazy, walk over the puddle, a few steps further, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, and soon it will look familiar, walk a little further, through the nearest door, a bit more, a little further, faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking behind the building, carefully, carefully, a bit more, through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, faster, carefully, carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk back a few steps, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few feet, back a few steps, up a few steps, up a few steps, up a few steps, carefully, carefully, and don't look at anything, just keep going and then stop and listen for a second before you continue through the nearest door, down a few steps, back a few steps, up a few steps, back a few steps, through the nearest door, a bit more, a few feet, through the nearest door, up a few steps, and don't look at anything, just keep going around in a circle, a little further, a few steps further, back a few steps, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, around in a circle, along the wall, don't be lazy, walk back a few steps, up a few steps, behind the building, back a few steps, and soon it will look familiar, walk over the puddle, along the wall, don't be lazy, walk onto the next street, through the nearest door, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue a little further, a few feet, faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a little further, onto the next street, faster, around in a circle, through the nearest door, up the hill, turn left, go and don't look at anything, just keep going through the nearest door, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue a little further, a few feet, faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a little further, onto the next street, faster, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue through the nearest door, faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a little further, a bit more, through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, behind the building, carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and then stop and listen for a second before you continue carefully, a bit more, over the puddle, a little further, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and don't forget to breathe, keep walking carefully, around in a circle, a bit more, a little further, through the nearest door, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, and don't look at anything, just keep going a little further, a little further, onto the next street, a few feet, through the nearest door, up a few steps, and don't look at anything, just keep going back a few steps, and soon it will look familiar, walk over the puddle, through the nearest door, up a few steps, back a few steps, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and don't forget to breathe, keep walking up a few steps, a little further, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue

along the wall, don't be lazy, walk a bit more, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, a bit more, through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, faster, carefully, carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk back a few steps, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few feet, back a few steps, up a few steps, up a few steps, up a few steps, carefully, carefully, and don't look at anything, just keep going and then stop and listen for a second before you continue through the nearest door, down a few steps, back a few steps, up a few steps, back a few steps, through the nearest door, a bit more, a few feet, through the nearest door, up a few steps, and don't look at anything, just keep going through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, and soon it will look familiar, walk faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking carefully, onto the next street, through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, up a few steps, back a few steps, faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a little further, and soon it will look familiar, walk and then stop and listen for a second before you continue carefully, a bit more, through the nearest door, faster, a little further, up the hill, turn left, go carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, around in a circle, a little further, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue carefully, a bit more, a little further, and take a step backwards, turn right, and go carefully, along the wall, don't be lazy, walk up the hill, turn left, go carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk and don't forget to breathe, keep walking back a few steps, and soon it will look familiar, walk along the wall, don't be lazy, walk a little further, up the hill, turn left, go through the nearest door, a bit more, a little further, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue along the wall, don't be lazy, walk up a few steps, up a few steps, and take a step backwards, turn right, and go through the nearest door, around in a circle, back a few steps, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking down a few steps, carefully, a bit more, a little further, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a bit more, carefully, along the wall, don't be lazy, walk over the puddle, a few steps further, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, and soon it will look familiar, walk a little further, through the nearest door, a bit more, a little further, faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking behind the building, carefully, carefully, a bit more, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue through the nearest door, faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a little further, a bit more, through the nearest door, up a few steps, back a few steps, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and don't forget to breathe, keep walking up a few steps, a little further, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue along the wall, don't be lazy, walk a bit more, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, a bit more, along the wall, don't be lazy, walk onto the next street, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, a few steps further, back a few steps, up a few steps, up a few steps, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking along the wall, don't be lazy, walk a bit more, and soon it will look familiar, walk up a few steps, a little further, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue and don't forget to breathe, keep walking over the puddle, carefully, up the hill, turn left, go through the nearest door, a bit more, a little further, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue along the wall, don't be lazy, walk up a few steps, up a few steps, and take a step backwards, turn right, and go through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, faster, carefully, carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk back a few steps, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few feet, back a few steps, up a few steps, up a few steps, up a few steps, carefully, carefully, and don't look at anything, just keep going and then stop and listen for a second before you continue through the nearest door, down a few steps, back a few steps, up a few steps, back a few steps, through the nearest door, a bit more, a few feet, through the nearest door, up a few steps, and don't look at anything, just keep going around in a circle, a little further, a few steps further, back a few steps, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, around in a circle, along the wall, don't be lazy, walk back a few steps, up a few steps, behind the building, back a few steps, and soon it will look familiar, walk over the puddle, through the nearest door, a bit more, carefully, along the wall, don't be lazy, walk and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, back a few steps, and soon it will look familiar, walk through the nearest door, up the hill, turn left, go back a few steps, a bit more, up the hill, turn left, go up a few steps, a little further, through the nearest door, up a few steps, back a few steps, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and don't forget to breathe, keep walking up a few steps, a little further, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue along the wall, don't be lazy, walk a bit more, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, a bit more, through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, and soon it will look familiar, walk faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking carefully, onto the next street, through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, up a few steps, back a few steps, faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a little further, and soon it will look familiar, walk and then stop and listen for a second before you continue carefully, a bit more, through the nearest door, faster, a little further, up the hill, turn left, go carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, around in a circle, a little further, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue carefully, a bit more, a little further, and take a step backwards, turn right, and go carefully, along the wall, don't be lazy, walk up the hill, turn left, go carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk and don't forget to breathe, keep walking back a few steps, and soon it will look familiar, walk along the wall, don't be lazy, walk a little further, up the hill, turn left, go through the nearest door, a bit more, a little further, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue along the wall, don't be lazy, walk up a few steps, up a few steps, and take a step backwards, turn right, and go through the nearest door, around in a circle, back a few steps, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking down a few steps, carefully, a bit more, a little further, through the nearest door, up a few steps, back a few steps, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and don't forget to breathe, keep walking up a few steps, a little further, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue along the wall, don't be lazy, walk a bit

more, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, a bit more, through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking through the nearest door, and don't look at anything, just keep going a little further, through the nearest door, faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a little further, onto the next street, around in a circle, through the nearest door, up the hill, turn left, go and don't look at anything, just keep going a few feet, through the nearest door, a bit more, behind the building, faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking along the wall, don't be lazy, walk a bit more, and soon it will look familiar, walk a bit more, back a few steps, over the puddle, a few steps further, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, over the puddle, carefully, up the hill, turn left, go through the nearest door, a bit more, a little further, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue along the wall, don't be lazy, walk up a few steps, up a few steps, and take a step backwards, turn right, and go through the nearest door, up a few steps, carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk over the puddle, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, a few feet, through the nearest door, up a few steps, up a few steps, behind the building, carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk and don't forget to breathe, keep walking around in a circle, a little further, up a few steps, through the nearest door, and don't worry, soon you will sleep, but for now walk and take a step backwards, turn right, and go a few feet, through the nearest door, up a few steps, and don't look at anything, just keep going along the wall, don't be lazy, walk onto the next street, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, a few steps further, back a few steps, up a few steps, up a few steps, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking along the wall, don't be lazy, walk a bit more, and soon it will look familiar, walk up a few steps, a little further, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue and don't forget to breathe, keep walking over the puddle, carefully, up the hill, turn left, go through the nearest door, a bit more, a little further, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue along the wall, don't be lazy, walk up a few steps, up a few steps, and take a step backwards, turn right, and go through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, faster, carefully, carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk back a few steps, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few feet, back a few steps, up a few steps, up a few steps, up a few steps, carefully, carefully, and don't look at anything, just keep going and then stop and listen for a second before you continue through the nearest door, down a few steps, back a few steps, up a few steps, back a few steps, through the nearest door, a bit more, a few feet, through the nearest door, up a few steps, and don't look at anything, just keep going through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, behind the building, carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and then stop and listen for a second before you continue carefully, a bit more, over the puddle, a little further, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and don't forget to breathe, keep walking carefully, around in a circle, a bit more, a little further, through the nearest door, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, and don't look at anything, just keep going a little further, a little further, onto the next street, a few feet, through the nearest door, up a few steps, and don't look at anything, just keep going back a few steps, and soon it will look familiar, walk over the puddle, around in a circle, through the nearest door, up the hill, turn left, go and don't look at anything, just keep going through the nearest door, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue a little further, a few feet, faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a little further, onto the next street, faster, through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, faster, carefully, carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk back a few steps, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few feet, back a few steps, up a few steps, up a few steps, up a few steps, carefully, carefully, and don't look at anything, just keep going and then stop and listen for a second before you continue through the nearest door, down a few steps, back a few steps, up a few steps, back a few steps, through the nearest door, a bit more, a few feet, through the nearest door, up a few steps, and don't look at anything, just keep going through the nearest door, up a few steps, carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk over the puddle, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, a few feet, through the nearest door, up a few steps, up a few steps, behind the building, carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk and don't forget to breathe, keep walking around in a circle, a little further, up a few steps, through the nearest door, and don't worry, soon you will sleep, but for now walk and take a step backwards, turn right, and go a few feet, through the nearest door, up a few steps, and don't look at anything, just keep going through the nearest door, up a few steps, back a few steps, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and don't forget to breathe, keep walking up a few steps, a little further, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue along the wall, don't be lazy, walk a bit more, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, a bit more, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a bit more, carefully, along the wall, don't be lazy, walk over the puddle, a few steps further, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, and soon it will look familiar, walk a little further, through the nearest door, a bit more, a little further, faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking behind the building, carefully, carefully, a bit more, along the wall, don't be lazy, walk onto the next street, through the nearest door, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue a little further, a few feet, faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a little further, onto the next street, faster, around in a circle, through the nearest door, up the hill, turn left, go and don't look at anything, just keep going through the nearest door, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue a little further, a few feet, faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a little further, onto the next street, faster, through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, behind the building, carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and then stop and listen for a second before you continue carefully, a bit more, over the puddle, a little further, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and don't forget to breathe, keep walking carefully, around in a circle, a bit more, a little further, through the nearest door, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, and don't look at anything, just keep going a little further, a little further, onto the next street, a few feet, through the nearest door, up a few steps, and don't look at anything, just keep going back a few steps, and soon it will look familiar, walk over the puddle, through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, behind the building, carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and then stop and listen for a second before you continue carefully, a bit more, over the puddle, a little further, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and don't forget to breathe, keep walking carefully, around in a circle, a bit more, a little further, through the nearest door, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, and don't look at anything, just keep going a little further, a little further, onto the next street, a few feet, through the nearest door, up a few steps, and don't look at anything, just keep going back a few steps, and soon it will look familiar, walk over the puddle, along the wall, don't be lazy, walk onto the next street, through the nearest door, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue a little further, a few feet, faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a little further, onto the next street, faster, through the nearest door, up a few steps, back a few steps, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and don't forget to breathe, keep walking up a few steps, a little further, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue along the wall, don't be lazy, walk a bit more, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, a bit more, through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, and soon it will look familiar, walk faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking carefully, onto the next street, through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, up a few steps, back a few steps, faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a little further, and soon it will look familiar, walk and then stop and listen for a second before you continue carefully, a bit more, through the nearest door, faster, a little further, up the hill, turn left, go carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, around in a circle, a little further, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue carefully, a bit more, a little further, and take a step backwards, turn right, and go carefully, along the wall, don't be lazy, walk up the hill, turn left, go carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk and don't forget to breathe, keep walking back a few steps, and soon it will look familiar, walk along the wall, don't be lazy, walk a little further, through the nearest door, up a few steps, carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk over the puddle, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, a few feet, through the nearest door, up a few steps, up a few steps, behind the building, carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk and don't forget to breathe, keep walking around in a circle, a little further, up a few steps, through the nearest door, and don't worry, soon you will sleep, but for now walk and take a step backwards, turn right, and go a few feet, through the nearest door, up a few steps, and don't look at anything, just keep going through the nearest door, around in a circle, back a few steps, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking down a few steps, carefully, a bit more, a little further, through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, behind the building, carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and then stop and listen for a second before you continue carefully, a bit more, over the puddle, a little further, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and don't forget to breathe, keep walking carefully, around in a circle, a bit more, a little further, through the nearest door, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, and don't look at anything, just keep going a little further, a little further, onto the next street, a few feet, through the nearest door, up a few steps, and don't look at anything, just keep going back a few steps, and soon it will look familiar, walk over the puddle, through the nearest door, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue a little further, a few feet, faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a little further, onto the next street, faster, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue along the wall, don't be lazy, walk a bit more, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, a bit more, through the nearest door, up a few steps, back a few steps, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and don't forget to breathe, keep walking up a few steps, a little further, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue along the wall, don't be lazy, walk a bit more, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, a bit more, through the nearest door, around in a circle, back a few steps, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking down a few steps, carefully, a bit more, a little further, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a bit more, carefully, along the wall, don't be lazy, walk over the puddle, a few steps further, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, and soon it will look familiar, walk a little further, through the nearest door, a bit more, a little further, faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking behind the building, carefully, carefully, a bit more, along the wall, don't be lazy, walk onto the next street, through the nearest door, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue a little further, a few feet, faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a little further, onto the next street, faster, around in a circle, through the nearest door, up the hill, turn left, go and don't look at anything, just keep going through the nearest door, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue a little further, a few feet, faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a little further, onto the next street, faster, through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, behind the building, carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and then stop and listen for a second before you continue carefully, a bit more, over the puddle, a little further, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and don't forget to breathe, keep walking carefully, around in a circle, a bit more, a little further, through the nearest door, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, and don't look at anything, just keep going a little further, a little further, onto the next street, a few feet, through the nearest door, up a few steps, and don't look at anything, just keep going back a few steps, and soon it will look familiar, walk over the puddle, through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, behind the building, carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and then stop and listen for a second before you continue carefully, a bit more, over the puddle, a little further, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and don't forget to breathe, keep walking carefully, around in a circle, a bit more, a little further, through the nearest door, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, and don't look at anything, just keep going a little further, a little further, onto the next street, a few feet, through the nearest door, up a few steps, and don't look at anything, just keep going back a few steps, and soon it will look familiar, walk over the puddle, along the wall, don't be lazy, walk onto the next street, through the nearest door, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue a little further, a few feet, faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a little further, onto the next street, faster, through the nearest door, up a few steps, back a few steps, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and don't forget to breathe, keep walking up a few steps, a little further, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue along the wall, don't be lazy, walk a bit more, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, a bit more, through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, and soon it will look familiar, walk faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking carefully, onto the next street, through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, up a few steps, back a few steps, faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a little further, and soon it will look familiar, walk and then stop and listen for a second before you continue carefully, a bit more, through the nearest door, faster, a little further, up the hill, turn left, go carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, around in a circle, a little further, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue carefully, a bit more, a little further, and take a step backwards, turn

right, and go carefully, along the wall, don't be lazy, walk up the hill, turn left, go carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk and don't forget to breathe, keep walking back a few steps, and soon it will look familiar, walk along the wall, don't be lazy, walk a little further, through the nearest door, up a few steps, carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk over the puddle, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, a few feet, through the nearest door, up a few steps, up a few steps, behind the building, carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk and don't forget to breathe, keep walking around in a circle, a little further, up a few steps, through the nearest door, and don't worry, soon you will sleep, but for now walk and take a step backwards, turn right, and go a few feet, through the nearest door, up a few steps, and don't look at anything, just keep going through the nearest door, around

in a circle, back a few steps, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking down a few steps, carefully, a bit more, a little further, through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, behind the building, carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and then stop and listen for a second before you continue carefully, a bit more, over the puddle, a little further, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and don't forget to breathe, keep walking carefully, around in a circle, a bit more, a little further, through the nearest door, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, and don't look at anything, just keep going a little further, a little further, onto the next street, a few feet, through the nearest door, up a few steps, and don't look at anything, just keep going back a few steps, and soon it will look familiar, walk over the puddle, through the nearest door, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue a little further, a few feet, faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a little further, onto the next street, faster, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue along the wall, don't be lazy, walk a bit more, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, a bit more, through the nearest door, up a few steps, back a few steps, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and don't forget to breathe, keep walking up a few steps, a little further, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue along the wall, don't be lazy, walk a bit more, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, a bit more, through the nearest door, around in a circle, back a few steps, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking down a few steps, carefully, a bit more, a little further, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a bit more, carefully, along the wall, don't be lazy, walk over the puddle, a few steps further, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, and soon it will look familiar, walk a little further, through the nearest door, a bit more, a little further, faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking behind the building, carefully, carefully, a bit more, through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, faster, carefully, carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk back a few steps, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few feet, back a few steps, up a few steps, up a few steps, up a few steps, carefully, carefully, and don't look at anything, just keep going and then stop and listen for a second before you continue through the nearest door, down a few steps, back a few steps, up a few steps, back a few steps, through the nearest door, a bit more, a few feet, through the nearest door, up a few steps, and don't look at anything, just keep going around in a circle, a little further, a few steps further, back a few steps, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, around in a circle, along the wall, don't be lazy, walk back a few steps, up a few steps, behind the building, back a few steps, and soon it will look familiar, walk over the puddle, around in a circle, a little further, a few steps further, back a few steps, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, around in a circle, along the wall, don't be lazy, walk back a few steps, up a few steps, behind the building, back a few steps, and soon it will look familiar, walk over the puddle, up the hill, turn left, go through the nearest door, a bit more, a little further, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue along the wall, don't be lazy, walk up a few steps, up a few steps, and take a step backwards, turn right, and go through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, faster, carefully, carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk back a few steps, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few feet, back a few steps, up a few steps, up a few steps, up a few steps, carefully, carefully, and don't look at anything, just keep going and then stop and listen for a second before you continue through the nearest door, down a few steps, back a few steps, up a few steps, back a few steps, through the nearest door, a bit more, a few feet, through the nearest door, up a few steps, and don't look at anything, just keep going through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, behind the building, carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and then stop and listen for a second before you continue carefully, a bit more, over the puddle, a little further, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and don't forget to breathe, keep walking carefully, around in a circle, a bit more, a little further, through the nearest door, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, and don't look at anything, just keep going a little further, a little further, onto the next street, a few feet, through the nearest door, up a few steps, and don't look at anything, just keep going back a few steps, and soon it will look familiar, walk over the puddle, through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, and soon it will look familiar, walk faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking carefully, onto the next street, through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, up a few steps, back a few steps, faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a little further, and soon it will look familiar, walk and then stop and listen for a second before you continue carefully, a bit more, through the nearest door, faster, a little further, up the hill, turn left, go carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, around in a circle, a little further, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue carefully, a bit more, a little further, and take a step backwards, turn right, and go carefully, along the wall, don't be lazy, walk up the hill, turn left, go carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk and don't forget to breathe, keep walking back a few steps, and soon it will look familiar, walk along the wall, don't be lazy, walk a little further, up the hill, turn left, go through the nearest door, a bit more, a little further, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue along the wall, don't be lazy, walk up a few steps, up a few steps, and take a step backwards, turn right, and go through the nearest door, around in a circle, back a few steps, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking down a few steps, carefully, a bit more, a little further, carefully, and get a quarter out of your pocket, so you can go a little further, a bit more, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, onto the next street, along the wall, don't be lazy, walk behind the building, behind the building, up a few steps, a little further, through the nearest door, up a few steps, back a few steps, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and don't forget to breathe, keep walking up a few steps, a little further, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue along the wall, don't be lazy, walk a bit more, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, a bit more, through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, behind the building, carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and then stop and listen for a second before you continue carefully, a bit more, over the puddle, a little further, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and don't forget to breathe, keep walking carefully, around in a circle, a bit more, a little further, through the nearest door, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, and don't look at anything, just keep going a little further, a little further, onto the next street, a few feet, through the nearest door, up a few steps, and don't look at anything, just keep going back a few steps, and soon it will look familiar, walk over the puddle, through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, behind the building, carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and then stop and listen for a second before you continue carefully, a bit more, over the puddle, a little further, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and don't forget to breathe, keep walking carefully, around in a circle, a bit more, a little further, through the nearest door, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, and don't look at anything, just keep going a little further, a little further, onto the next street, a few feet, through the nearest door, up a few steps, and don't look at anything, just keep going back a few steps, and soon it will look familiar, walk over the puddle, up the hill, turn left, go through the nearest door, a bit more, a little further, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue along the wall, don't be lazy, walk up a few steps, up a few steps, and take a step backwards, turn right, and go through the nearest door, a bit more, carefully, along the wall, don't be lazy, walk and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, back a few steps, and soon it will look familiar, walk through the nearest door, up the hill, turn left, go back a few steps, a bit more, up the hill, turn left, go up a few steps, a little further, through the nearest door, around in a circle, back a few steps, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking down a few steps, carefully, a bit more, a little further, through the nearest door, up a few steps, back a few steps, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and don't forget to breathe, keep walking up a few steps, a little further, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue along the wall, don't be lazy, walk a bit more, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, a bit more, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a bit more, carefully, along the wall, don't be lazy, walk over the puddle, a few steps further, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, and soon it will look familiar, walk a little further, through the nearest door, a bit more, a little further, faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking behind the building, carefully, carefully, a bit more, through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, behind the building, carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and then stop and listen for a second before you continue carefully, a bit more, over the puddle, a little further, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and don't forget to breathe, keep walking carefully, around in a circle, a bit more, a little further, through the nearest door, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, and don't look at anything, just keep going a little further, a little further, onto the next street, a few feet, through the nearest door, up a few steps, and don't look at anything, just keep going back a few steps, and soon it will look familiar, walk over the puddle, through the nearest door, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue a little further, a few feet, faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a little further, onto the next street, faster, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue along the wall, don't be lazy, walk a bit more, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, a bit more, through the nearest door, up a few steps, back a few steps, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and don't forget to breathe, keep walking up a few steps, a little further, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue along the wall, don't be lazy, walk a bit more, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, a bit more, through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, behind the building, carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk and don't forget to breathe, keep walking up a few steps, carefully, carefully, and don't look at anything, just keep going through the nearest door, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk and take a step backwards, turn right, and go and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, back a few steps, and soon it will look familiar, walk over the puddle, slowly now, along the wall, don't be lazy, walk faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and don't look at anything, just keep going a little further, a little further, onto the next street, over the puddle, carefully, back a few steps, and soon it will look familiar, walk over the puddle, through the nearest door, up a few steps, back a few steps, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and don't forget to breathe, keep walking up a few steps, a little further, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue along the wall, don't be lazy, walk a bit more, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, a bit more, through the nearest door, up a few steps, back a few steps, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and don't forget to breathe, keep walking up a few steps, a little further, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue along the wall, don't be lazy, walk a bit more, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, a bit more, carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk and don't forget to breathe, keep walking carefully, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, and soon it will look familiar, walk a little further, and wonder if you should be here, but keep going and don't forget to breathe, keep walking faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a bit more, a little further, a little further, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking through the nearest door, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue a little further, a few feet, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue a little further, a little further, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a bit more, carefully, along the wall, don't be lazy, walk over the puddle, a few steps further, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, and soon it will look familiar, walk a little further, through the nearest door, a bit more, a little further, faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking behind the building, carefully, carefully, a bit more, along the wall, don't be lazy, walk onto the next street, through the nearest door, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue a little further, a few feet, faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a little further, onto the next street, faster, through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, behind the building, carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk and don't forget to breathe, keep walking up a few steps, carefully, carefully, and don't look at anything, just keep going through the nearest door, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk and take a step backwards, turn right, and go and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, back a few steps, and soon it will look familiar, walk over the puddle, slowly now, along the wall, don't be lazy, walk faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and don't look at anything, just keep going a little further, a little further, onto the next street, over the puddle, carefully, back a few steps, and soon it will look familiar, walk over the puddle, around in a circle, through the nearest door, up the hill, turn left, go and don't look at anything, just keep going through the nearest door, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue a little further, a few feet, faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a little further, onto the next street, faster, through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, faster, carefully, carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk back a few steps, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few feet, back a few steps, up a few steps, up a few steps, up a few steps, carefully, carefully, and don't look at anything, just keep going and then stop and listen for a second before you continue through the nearest door, down a few steps, back a few steps, up a few steps, back a few steps, through the nearest door, a bit more, a few feet, through the nearest door, up a few steps, and don't look at anything, just keep going carefully, and get a quarter out of your pocket, so you can go a little further, a bit more, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, onto the next street, along the wall, don't be lazy, walk behind the building, behind the building, up a few steps, a little further, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a bit more, carefully, along the wall, don't be lazy, walk over the puddle, a few steps further, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, and soon it will look familiar, walk a little further, through the nearest door, a bit more, a little further, faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking behind the building, carefully, carefully, a bit more, through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, faster, carefully, carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk back a few steps, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few feet, back a few steps, up a few steps, up a few steps, up a few steps, carefully, carefully, and don't look at anything, just keep going and then stop and listen for a second before you continue through the nearest door, down a few steps, back a few steps, up a few steps, back a few steps, through the nearest door, a bit more, a few feet, through the nearest door, up a few steps, and don't look at anything, just keep going around in a circle, a little further, a few steps further, back a few steps, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, around in a circle, along the wall, don't be lazy, walk back a few steps, up a few steps, behind the building, back a few steps, and soon it will look familiar, walk over the puddle, around in a circle, a little further, a few steps further, back a few steps, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, around in a circle, along the wall, don't be lazy, walk back a few steps, up a few steps, behind the building, back a few steps, and soon it will look familiar, walk over the puddle, up the hill, turn left, go through the nearest door, a bit more, a little further, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue along the wall, don't be lazy, walk up a few steps, up a few steps, and take a step backwards, turn right, and go through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, faster, carefully, carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk back a few steps, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few feet, back a few steps, up a few steps, up a few steps, up a few steps, carefully, carefully, and don't look at anything, just keep going and then stop and listen for a second before you continue through the nearest door, down a few steps, back a few steps, up a few steps, back a few steps, through the nearest door, a bit more, a few feet, through the nearest door, up a few steps, and don't look at anything, just keep going through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, behind the building, carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and then stop and listen for a second before you continue carefully, a bit more, over the puddle, a little further, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and don't forget to breathe, keep walking carefully, around in a circle, a bit more, a little further, through the nearest door, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, and don't look at anything, just keep going a little further, a little further, onto the

next street, a few feet, through the nearest door, up a few steps, and don't look at anything, just keep going back a few steps, and soon it will look familiar, walk over the puddle, through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, and soon it will look familiar, walk faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking carefully, onto the next street, through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, up a few steps, back a few steps, faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a little further, and soon it will look familiar, walk and then stop and listen for a second before you continue carefully, a bit more, through the nearest door, faster, a little further, up the hill, turn left, go carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, around in a circle, a little further, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue carefully, a bit more, a little further, and take a step backwards, turn right, and go carefully, along the wall, don't be lazy, walk up the hill, turn left, go carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk and don't forget to breathe, keep walking back a few steps, and soon it will look familiar, walk along the wall, don't be lazy, walk a little further, up the hill, turn left, go through the nearest door, a bit more, a little further, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue along the wall, don't be lazy, walk up a few steps, up a few steps, and take a step backwards, turn right, and go through the nearest door, around in a circle, back a few steps, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking down a few steps, carefully, a bit more, a little further, carefully, and get a quarter out of your pocket, so you can go a little further, a bit more, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, onto the next street, along the wall, don't be lazy, walk behind the building, behind the building, up a few steps, a little further, through the nearest door, up a few steps, back a few steps, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and don't forget to breathe, keep walking up a few steps, a little further, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue along the wall, don't be lazy, walk a bit more, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, a bit more, through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, behind the building, carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and then stop and listen for a second before you continue carefully, a bit more, over the puddle, a little further, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and don't forget to breathe, keep walking carefully, around in a circle, a bit more, a little further, through the nearest door, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, and don't look at anything, just keep going a little further, a little further, onto the next street, a few feet, through the nearest door, up a few steps, and don't look at anything, just keep going back a few steps, and soon it will look familiar, walk over the puddle, through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, behind the building, carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and then stop and listen for a second before you continue carefully, a bit more, over the puddle, a little further, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and don't forget to breathe, keep walking carefully, around in a circle, a bit more, a little further, through the nearest door, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, and don't look at anything, just keep going a little further, a little further, onto the next street, a few feet, through the nearest door, up a few steps, and don't look at anything, just keep going back a few steps, and soon it will look familiar, walk over the puddle, up the hill, turn left, go through the nearest door, a bit more, a little further, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue along the wall, don't be lazy, walk up a few steps, up a few steps, and take a step backwards, turn right, and go through the nearest door, a bit more, carefully, along the wall, don't be lazy, walk and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, back a few steps, and soon it will look familiar, walk through the nearest door, up the hill, turn left, go back a few steps, a bit more, up the hill, turn left, go up a few steps, a little further, through the nearest door, around in a circle, back a few steps, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking down a few steps, carefully, a bit more, a little further, through the nearest door, up a few steps, back a few steps, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and don't forget to breathe, keep walking up a few steps, a little further, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue along the wall, don't be lazy, walk a bit more, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, a bit more, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a bit more, carefully, along the wall, don't be lazy, walk over the puddle, a few steps further, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, and soon it will look familiar, walk a little further, through the nearest door, a bit more, a little further, faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking behind the building, carefully, carefully, a bit more, through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, behind the building, carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and then stop and listen for a second before you continue carefully, a bit more, over the puddle, a little further, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and don't forget to breathe, keep walking carefully, around in a circle, a bit more, a little further, through the nearest door, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, and don't look at anything, just keep going a little further, a little further, onto the next street, a few feet, through the nearest door, up a few steps, and don't look at anything, just keep going back a few steps, and soon it will look familiar, walk over the puddle, through the nearest door, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue a little further, a few feet, faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a little further, onto the next street, faster, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue along the wall, don't be lazy, walk a bit more, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, a bit more, through the nearest door, up a few steps, back a few steps, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and don't forget to breathe, keep walking up a few steps, a little further, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue along the wall, don't be lazy, walk a bit more, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, a bit more, through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, behind the building, carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk and don't forget to breathe, keep walking up a few steps, carefully, carefully, and don't look at anything, just keep going through the nearest door, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk and take a step backwards, turn right, and go and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, back a few steps, and soon it will look familiar, walk over the puddle, slowly now, along the wall, don't be lazy, walk faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and don't look at anything, just keep going a little further, a little further, onto the next street, over the puddle, carefully, back a few steps, and soon it will look familiar, walk over the puddle, through the nearest door, up a few steps, back a few steps, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and don't forget to breathe, keep walking up a few steps, a little further, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue along the wall, don't be lazy, walk a bit more, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, a bit more, through the nearest door, up a few steps, back a few steps, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and don't forget to breathe, keep walking up a few steps, a little further, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue along the wall, don't be lazy, walk a bit more, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, a bit more, carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk and don't forget to breathe, keep walking carefully, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, and soon it will look familiar, walk a little further, and wonder if you should be here, but keep going and don't forget to breathe, keep walking faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a bit more, a little further, a little further, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking through the nearest door, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue a little further, a few feet, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue a little further, a little further, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a bit more, carefully, along the wall, don't be lazy, walk over the puddle, a few steps further, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, and soon it will look familiar, walk a little further, through the nearest door, a bit more, a little further, faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking behind the building, carefully, carefully, a bit more, along the wall, don't be lazy, walk onto the next street, through the nearest door, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue a little further, a few feet, faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a little further, onto the next street, faster, through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, behind the building, carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk and don't forget to breathe, keep walking up a few steps, carefully, carefully, and don't look at anything, just keep going through the nearest door, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk and take a step backwards, turn right, and go and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, back a few steps, and soon it will look familiar, walk over the puddle, slowly now, along the wall, don't be lazy, walk faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and don't look at anything, just keep going a little further, a little further, onto the next street, over the puddle, carefully, back a few steps, and soon it will look familiar, walk over the puddle, around in a circle, through the nearest door, up the hill, turn left, go and don't look at anything, just keep going through the nearest door, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue a little further, a few feet, faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a little further, onto the next street, faster, through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, faster, carefully, carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk back a few steps, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few feet, back a few steps, up a few steps, up a few steps, up a few steps, carefully, carefully, and don't look at anything, just keep going and then stop and listen for a second before you continue through the nearest door, down a few steps, back a few steps, up a few steps, back a few steps, through the nearest door, a bit more, a few feet, through the nearest door, up a few steps, and don't look at anything, just keep going carefully, and get a quarter out of your pocket, so you can go a little further, a bit more, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, onto the next street, along the wall, don't be lazy, walk behind the building, behind the building, up a few steps, a little further, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further,

a bit more, carefully, along the wall, don't be lazy, walk over the puddle, a few steps further, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, and soon it will look familiar, walk a little further, through the nearest door, a bit more, a little further, faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking behind the building, carefully, carefully, a bit more, through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, and soon it will look familiar, walk faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking carefully, onto the next street, through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, up a few steps, back a few steps, faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a little further, and soon it will look familiar, walk and then stop and listen for a second before you continue carefully, a bit more, through the nearest door, faster, a little further, up the hill, turn left, go carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, around in a circle, a little further, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue carefully, a bit more, a little further, and take a step backwards, turn right, and go carefully, along the wall, don't be lazy, walk up the hill, turn left, go carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk and don't forget to breathe, keep walking back a few steps, and soon it will look familiar, walk along the wall, don't be lazy, walk a little further, through the nearest door, up a few steps, back a few steps, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and don't forget to breathe, keep walking up a few steps, a little further, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue along the wall, don't be lazy, walk a bit more, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, a bit more, through the nearest door, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue a little further, a few feet, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue a little further, a little further, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and then stop and listen for a second before you continue through the nearest door, faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a little further, a bit more, through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, behind the building, carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and then stop and listen for a second before you continue carefully, a bit more, over the puddle, a little further, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and don't forget to breathe, keep walking carefully, around in a circle, a bit more, a little further, through the nearest door, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, and don't look at anything, just keep going a little further, a little further, onto the next street, a few feet, through the nearest door, up a few steps, and don't look at anything, just keep going back a few steps, and soon it will look familiar, walk over the puddle, through the nearest door, up a few steps, back a few steps, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and don't forget to breathe, keep walking up a few steps, a little further, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue along the wall, don't be lazy, walk a bit more, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, a bit more, carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk and don't forget to breathe, keep walking carefully, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, and soon it will look familiar, walk a little further, and wonder if you should be here, but keep going and don't forget to breathe, keep walking faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a bit more, a little further, a little further, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and then stop and listen for a second before you continue through the nearest door, faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a little further, a bit more, through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, and soon it will look familiar, walk faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking carefully, onto the next street, through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, up a few steps, back a few steps, faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a little further, and soon it will look familiar, walk and then stop and listen for a second before you continue carefully, a bit more, through the nearest door, faster, a little further, up the hill, turn left, go carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, around in a circle, a little further, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue carefully, a bit more, a little further, and take a step backwards, turn right, and go carefully, along the wall, don't be lazy, walk up the hill, turn left, go carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk and don't forget to breathe, keep walking back a few steps, and soon it will look familiar, walk along the wall, don't be lazy, walk a little further, through the nearest door, up a few steps, carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk over the puddle, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, a few feet, through the nearest door, up a few steps, up a few steps, behind the building, carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk and don't forget to breathe, keep walking around in a circle, a little further, up a few steps, through the nearest door, and don't worry, soon you will sleep, but for now walk and take a step backwards, turn right, and go a few feet, through the nearest door, up a few steps, and don't look at anything, just keep going through the nearest door, around in a circle, back a few steps, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking down a few steps, carefully, a bit more, a little further, through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, behind the building, carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and then stop and listen for a second before you continue carefully, a bit more, over the puddle, a little further, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and don't forget to breathe, keep walking carefully, around in a circle, a bit more, a little further, through the nearest door, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, and don't look at anything, just keep going a little further, a little further, onto the next street, a few feet, through the nearest door, up a few steps, and don't look at anything, just keep going back a few steps, and soon it will look familiar, walk over the puddle, through the nearest door, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue a little further, a few feet, faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a little further, onto the next street, faster, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue along the wall, don't be lazy, walk a bit more, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, a bit more, through the nearest door, up a few steps, back a few steps, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and don't forget to breathe, keep walking up a few steps, a little further, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue along the wall, don't be lazy, walk a bit more, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, a bit more, through the nearest door, around in a circle, back a few steps, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking down a few steps, carefully, a bit more, a little further, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a bit more, carefully, along the wall, don't be lazy, walk over the puddle, a few steps further, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, and soon it will look familiar, walk a little further, through the nearest door, a bit more, a little further, faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking behind the building, carefully, carefully, a bit more, through the nearest door, a bit more, carefully, along the wall, don't be lazy, walk and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, back a few steps, and soon it will look familiar, walk through the nearest door, up the hill, turn left, go back a few steps, a bit more, up the hill, turn left, go up a few steps, a little further, around in a circle, through the nearest door, up the hill, turn left, go and don't look at anything, just keep going through the nearest door, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue a little further, a few feet, faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a little further, onto the next street, faster, through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, behind the building, carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and then stop and listen for a second before you continue carefully, a bit more, over the puddle, a little further, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and don't forget to breathe, keep walking carefully, around in a circle, a bit more, a little further, through the nearest door, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, and don't look at anything, just keep going a little further, a little further, onto the next street, a few feet, through the nearest door, up a few steps, and don't look at anything, just keep going back a few steps, and soon it will look familiar, walk over the puddle, behind the building, carefully, a few feet, and soon it will look familiar, walk through the nearest door, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue a little further, a few feet, faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a little further, onto the next street, faster, up the hill, turn left, go through the nearest door, a bit more, a little further, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue along the wall, don't be lazy, walk up a few steps, up a few steps, and take a step backwards, turn right, and go through the nearest door, around in a circle, back a few steps, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking down a few steps, carefully, a bit more, a little further, through the nearest door, up a few steps, back a few steps, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and don't forget to breathe, keep walking up a few steps, a little further, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue along the wall, don't be lazy, walk a bit more, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, a bit more, along the wall, don't be lazy, walk onto the next street, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, a few steps further, back a few steps, up a few steps, up a few steps, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking along the wall, don't be lazy, walk a bit more, and soon it will look familiar, walk up a few steps, a little further, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue and don't forget to breathe, keep walking over the puddle, carefully, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a bit more, carefully, along the wall, don't be lazy, walk over the puddle, a few steps further, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, and soon it will look familiar, walk a little further, through the nearest door, a bit more, a little further, faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking behind the building, carefully, carefully, a bit more, through the nearest door, around in a circle, back a few steps, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking down a few steps, carefully, a bit more, a little further, through the nearest door, up a few steps, back a few steps, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and don't forget to breathe, keep walking up a few steps, a little further, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue along the wall, don't be lazy, walk a bit more, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, a bit more, through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, and soon it will look familiar, walk faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking carefully, onto the next street, through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, up a few steps, back a few steps, faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a little further, and soon it will look familiar, walk and then stop and listen for a second before you continue carefully, a bit more, through the nearest door, faster, a little further, up the hill, turn left, go carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, around in a circle, a little further, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue carefully, a bit more, a little further, and take a step backwards, turn right, and go carefully, along the wall, don't be lazy, walk up the hill, turn left, go carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk and don't forget to breathe, keep walking back a few steps, and soon it will look familiar, walk along the wall, don't be lazy, walk a little further, through the nearest door, up a few steps, carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk over the puddle, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, a few feet, through the nearest door, up a few steps, up a few steps, behind the building, carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk and don't forget to breathe, keep walking around in a circle, a little further, up a few steps, through the nearest door, and don't worry, soon you will sleep, but for now walk and take a step backwards, turn right, and go a few feet, through the nearest door, up a few steps, and don't look at anything, just keep going along the wall, don't be lazy, walk onto the next street, through the nearest door, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue a little further, a few feet, faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a little further, onto the next street, faster, along the wall, don't be lazy, walk onto the next street, through the nearest door, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue a little further, a few feet, faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a little further, onto the next street, faster, through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking through the nearest door, and don't look at anything, just keep going a little further, through the nearest door, faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a little further, onto the next street, around in a circle, through the nearest door, up the hill, turn left, go and don't look at anything, just keep going a few feet, through the nearest door, a bit more, behind the building, faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking along the wall, don't be lazy, walk a bit more, and soon it will look familiar, walk a bit more, back a few steps, over the puddle, a few steps further, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, over the puddle, carefully, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a bit more, carefully, along the wall, don't be lazy, walk over the puddle, a few steps further, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, and soon it will look familiar, walk a little further, through the nearest door, a bit more, a little further, faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking behind the building, carefully, carefully, a bit more, along the wall, don't be lazy, walk onto the next street, through the nearest door, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue a little further, a few feet, faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a little further, onto the next street, faster, up the hill, turn left, go through the nearest door, a bit more, a little further, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue along the wall, don't be lazy, walk up a few steps, up a few steps, and take a step backwards, turn right, and go through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, faster, carefully, carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk back a few steps, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few feet, back a few steps, up a few steps, up a few steps, up a few steps, carefully, carefully, and don't look at anything, just keep going and then stop and listen for a second before you continue through the nearest door, down a few steps, back a few steps, up a few steps, back a few steps, through the nearest door, a bit more, a few feet, through the nearest door, up a few steps, and don't look at anything, just keep going carefully, and get a quarter out of your pocket, so you can go a little further, a bit more, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, onto the next street, along the wall, don't be lazy, walk behind the building, behind the building, up a few steps, a little further, through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, behind the building, carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and then stop and listen for a second before you continue carefully, a bit more, over the puddle, a little further, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and don't forget to breathe, keep walking carefully, around in a circle, a bit more, a little further, through the nearest door, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, and don't look at anything, just keep going a little further, a little further, onto the next street, a few feet, through the nearest door, up a few steps, and don't look at anything, just keep going back a few steps, and soon it will look familiar, walk over the puddle, through the nearest door, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue a little further, a few feet, faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a little further, onto the next street, faster, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue along the wall, don't be lazy, walk a bit more, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, a bit more, through the nearest door, up a few steps, back a few steps, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and don't forget to breathe, keep walking up a few steps, a little further, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue along the wall, don't be lazy, walk a bit more, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, a bit more, through the nearest door, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue a little further, a few feet, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue a little further, a little further, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a bit more, carefully, along the wall, don't be lazy, walk over the puddle, a few steps further, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, and soon it will look familiar, walk a little further, through the nearest door, a bit more, a little further, faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking behind the building, carefully, carefully, a bit more, along the wall, don't be lazy, walk onto the next street, through the nearest door, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue a little further, a few feet, faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a little further, onto the next street, faster, along the wall, don't be lazy, walk onto the next street, through the nearest door, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue a little further, a few feet, faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a little further, onto the next street, faster, around in a circle, a little further, a few steps further, back a few steps, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, around in a circle, along the wall, don't be lazy, walk back a few steps, up a few steps, behind the building, back a few steps, and soon it will look familiar, walk over the puddle, up the hill, turn left, go through the nearest door, a bit more, a little further, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue along the wall, don't be lazy, walk up a few steps, up a few steps, and take a step backwards, turn right, and go through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, faster, carefully, carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk back a few steps, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few feet, back a few steps, up a few steps, up a few steps, up a few steps, carefully, carefully, and don't look at anything, just keep going and then stop and listen for a second before you continue through the nearest door, down a few steps, back a few steps, up a few steps, back a few steps, through the nearest door, a bit more, a few feet, through the nearest door, up a few steps, and don't look at anything, just keep going through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, behind the building, carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and then stop and listen for a second before you continue carefully, a bit more, over the puddle, a little further, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and don't forget to breathe, keep walking carefully, around in a circle, a bit more, a little further, through the nearest door, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, and don't look at anything, just keep going a little further, a little further, onto the next street, a few feet, through the nearest door, up a few steps, and don't look at anything, just keep going back a few steps, and soon it will look familiar, walk over the puddle, through the nearest door, a bit more, carefully, along the wall, don't be lazy, walk and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, back a few steps, and soon it will look familiar, walk through the nearest door, up the hill, turn left, go back a few steps, a bit more, up the hill, turn left, go up a few steps, a little further, through the nearest door, up a few steps, back a few steps, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and don't forget to breathe, keep walking up a few steps, a little further, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue along the wall, don't be lazy, walk a bit more, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, a bit more, along the wall, don't be lazy, walk onto the next street, through the nearest door, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue a little further, a few feet, faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a little further, onto the next street, faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a bit more, carefully, along the wall, don't be lazy, walk over the puddle, a few steps further, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, and soon it will look familiar, walk a little further, through the nearest door, a bit more, a little further, faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking behind the building, carefully, carefully, a bit more, through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, behind the building, carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few feet, carefully, a bit more, a bit more, and take a step backwards, turn right, and go faster, carefully, carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk and take a step backwards, turn right, and go carefully, along the wall, don't be lazy, walk a few feet, back a few steps, up a few steps, up a few steps, faster, up a few steps, a little further, a little further, onto the next street, around in a circle, along the wall, don't be lazy, walk and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and then stop and listen for a second before you continue carefully, a bit more, and soon it will look familiar, walk carefully, a few feet, a few feet, through the nearest door, up a few steps, and don't look at anything, just keep going through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking through the nearest door, and don't look at anything, just keep going a little further, through the nearest door, faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a little further, onto the next street, around in a circle, through the nearest door, up the hill, turn left, go and don't look at anything, just keep going a few feet, through the nearest door, a bit more, behind the building, faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking along the wall, don't be lazy, walk a bit more, and soon it will look familiar, walk a bit more, back a few steps, over the puddle, a few steps further, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, over the puddle, carefully, through the nearest door, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue a little further, a few feet, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue a little further, a little further, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a bit more, carefully, along the wall, don't be lazy, walk over the puddle, a few steps further, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, and soon it will look familiar, walk a little further, through the nearest door, a bit more, a little further, faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking behind the building, carefully, carefully, a bit more, along the wall, don't be lazy, walk onto the next street, through the nearest door, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue a little further, a few feet, faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a little further, onto the next street, faster, through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, behind the building, carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk and don't forget to breathe, keep walking up a few steps, carefully, carefully, and don't look at anything, just keep going through the nearest door, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk and take a step backwards, turn right, and go and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, back a few steps, and soon it will look familiar, walk over the puddle, slowly now, along the wall, don't be lazy, walk faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and don't look at anything, just keep going a little further, a little further, onto the next street, over the puddle, carefully, back a few steps, and soon it will look familiar, walk over the puddle, up the hill, turn left, go through the nearest door, a bit more, a little further, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue along the wall, don't be lazy, walk up a few steps, up a few steps, and take a step backwards, turn right, and go through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, over the puddle, a little further, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking through the nearest door, and now here's where it gets tricky, sidle along the wall, don't be lazy, walk through the nearest door, a bit more, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a little further, a bit more, carefully, along the wall, don't be lazy, walk and don't forget to breathe, keep walking carefully, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue and take a step backwards, turn right, and go carefully, along the wall, don't be lazy, walk a bit more, onto the next street, carefully, up the hill, turn left, go and don't look at anything, just keep going a little further, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking faster, carefully, and take a step backwards, turn right, and go carefully, along the wall, don't be lazy, walk up the hill, turn left, go through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk over the puddle, carefully, through the nearest door, up a few steps, back a few steps, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and don't forget to breathe, keep walking up a few steps, a little further, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue along the wall, don't be lazy, walk a bit more, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, a bit more, through the nearest door, around in a circle, back a few steps, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking down a few steps, carefully, a bit more, a little further, through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, behind the building, carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and then stop and listen for a second before you continue carefully, a bit more, over the puddle, a little further, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and don't forget to breathe, keep walking carefully, around in a circle, a bit more, a little further, through the nearest door, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, and don't look at anything, just keep going a little further, a little further, onto the next street, a few feet, through the nearest door, up a few steps, and don't look at anything, just keep going back a few steps, and soon it will look familiar, walk over the puddle, through the nearest door, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue a little further, a few feet, faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a little further, onto the next street, faster, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue along the wall, don't be lazy, walk a bit more, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, a bit more, through the nearest door, up a few steps, back a few steps, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and don't forget to breathe, keep walking up a few steps, a little further, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue along the wall, don't be lazy, walk a bit more, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, a bit more, carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk and don't forget to breathe, keep walking carefully, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, and soon it will look familiar, walk a little further, and wonder if you should be here, but keep going and don't forget to breathe, keep walking faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a bit more, a little further, a little further, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking through the nearest door, up a few steps, carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk over the puddle, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, a few feet, through the nearest door, up a few steps, up a few steps, behind the building, carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk and don't forget to breathe, keep walking around in a circle, a little further, up a few steps, through the nearest door, and don't worry, soon you will sleep, but for now walk and take a step backwards, turn right, and go a few feet, through the nearest door, up a few steps, and don't look at anything, just keep going around in a circle, a little further, a few steps further, back a few steps, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, around in a circle, along the wall, don't be lazy, walk back a few steps, up a few steps, behind the building, back a few steps, and soon it will look familiar, walk over the puddle, around in a circle, a little further, a few steps further, back a few steps, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, around in a circle, along the wall, don't be lazy, walk back a few steps, up a few steps, behind the building, back a few steps, and soon it will look familiar, walk over the puddle, along the wall, don't be lazy, walk onto the next street, through the nearest door, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue a little further, a few feet, faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a little further, onto the next street, faster, through the nearest door, up a few steps, back a few steps, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and don't forget to breathe, keep walking up a few steps, a little further, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue along the wall, don't be lazy, walk a bit more, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, a bit more, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a bit more, carefully, along the wall, don't be lazy, walk over the puddle, a few steps further, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, and soon it will look familiar, walk a little further, through the nearest door, a bit more, a little further, faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking behind the building, carefully, carefully, a bit more, through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, and soon it will look familiar, walk faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking carefully, onto the next street, through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, up a few steps, back a few steps, faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a little further, and soon it will look familiar, walk and then stop and listen for a second before you continue carefully, a bit more, through the nearest door, faster, a little further, up the hill, turn left, go carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, around in a circle, a little further, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue carefully, a bit more, a little further, and take a step backwards, turn right, and go carefully, along the wall, don't be lazy, walk up the hill, turn left, go carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk and don't forget to breathe, keep walking back a few steps, and soon it will look familiar, walk along the wall, don't be lazy, walk a little further, through the nearest door, up a few steps, back a few steps, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and don't forget to breathe, keep walking up a few steps, a little further, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue along the wall, don't be lazy, walk a bit more, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, a bit more, through the nearest door, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue a little further, a few feet, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue a little further, a little further, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and then stop and listen for a second before you continue through the nearest door, faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a little further, a bit more, through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, behind the building, carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and then stop and listen for a second before you continue carefully, a bit more, over the puddle, a little further, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and don't forget to breathe, keep walking carefully, around in a circle, a bit more, a little further, through the nearest door, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, and don't look at anything, just keep going a little further, a little further, onto the next street, a few feet, through the nearest door, up a few steps, and don't look at anything, just keep going back a few steps, and soon it will look familiar, walk over the puddle, through the nearest door, up a few steps, back a few steps, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and don't forget to breathe, keep walking up a few steps, a little further, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue along the wall, don't be lazy, walk a bit more, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, a bit more, carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk and don't forget to breathe, keep walking carefully, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, and soon it will look familiar, walk a little further, and wonder if you should be here, but keep going and don't forget to breathe, keep walking faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a bit more, a little further, a little further, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and then stop and listen for a second before you continue through the nearest door, faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a little further, a bit more, through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, and soon it will look familiar, walk faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking carefully, onto the next street, through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, up a few steps, back a few steps, faster, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a little further, and soon it will look familiar, walk and then stop and listen for a second before you continue carefully, a bit more, through the nearest door, faster, a little further, up the hill, turn left, go carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, around in a circle, a little further, and then stop and listen for a second before you continue carefully, a bit more, a little further, and take a step backwards, turn right, and go

carefully, along the wall, don't be lazy, walk up the hill, turn left, go carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk and don't forget to breathe, keep walking back a few steps, and soon it will look familiar, walk along the wall, don't be lazy, walk a little further, through the nearest door, up a few steps, carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk over the puddle, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, a few feet, through the nearest door, up a few steps, up a few steps, behind the building, carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk and don't forget to breathe, keep walking around in a circle, a little further, up a few steps, through the nearest door, and don't worry, soon you will sleep, but for now walk and take a step backwards, turn right, and go a few feet, through the nearest door, up a few steps, and don't look at anything, just keep going through the nearest door, around in a circle, back a few steps, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking down a few steps, carefully, a bit more, a little further, through the nearest door, and soon it will look familiar, walk behind the building, behind the building, carefully, and soon it will look familiar, walk and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and then stop and listen for a second before you continue carefully, a bit more, over the puddle, a little further, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking and don't forget to breathe, keep walking carefully, around in a circle, a bit more, a little further, through the nearest door, and don't forget to breathe, keep walking a few steps further, a little further, and don't look at anything, just keep going.

An mp3 of this piece is available.

© 2004 Chris Piuma

chrispiuma@gmail.com

<http://buggeryville.blogspot.com>